MESSAGE

Gujarat enjoys the reputation of being the most progressive and well-administered State in the country. The State Government is aware that although progress has been achieved in various sectors since the State's inception much remains to be done in many fields. The Government is, therefore, making strenuous efforts to provide basic minimum services to the people, including drinking water, housing, health, education, livelihood opportunities, etc. The issues like securing peoples participation, poverty alleviation, social protection to the poor, removal of regional imbalances, good governance are also high priority areas of focus on the agenda of the Government. We are committed to the cause of Human Development.

I compliment the Charotar University of Science and Technology (CHARUSAT), Changa for collaborating with the State Government in preparation of the District Human Development Report of Chhotaudepur district, which provides an objective, in-depth analysis of the present status of various aspects of human welfare in the district. I also compliment the GSIDS, General Administrative Department (Planning) for undertaking this project.

I am sure, the comprehensive document, so meticulously prepared, providing a realistic assessment of the current status of the district and will serve as a guide for future planning in various fields which leads towards inclusive development of the people of the district.

I appreciate the endeavour.

MESSAGE

Human Development is a development paradigm which is beyond mere rise or fall of national incomes. It is about creating an environment where people can develop their full potential and lead productive, creative lives in accordance with their needs and interests. People are the real wealth of nation. Development is thus about expanding the choices people have to lead lives that they value.

The District Human Development Report is a Document which gives the present status of Human Development in different talukas of the District. Human Development requires focus on the basic as well as crucial indicators of Human Development. Thus this report has highlighted three important pillars which are: Education, Health and Livelihood.

I commend the efforts put in by stakeholders in preparing this publication and hope that this will be useful to all the State & District level officials, policy makers and planners in working towards improving Human Development scenario of the District.

Preface

To extent the choices for a better life, sustainable growth is required. The vision of every district requires intentional policies to reach the core of capability approach to consider the development of every individual, certain areas needs to be considered. The District Human Development Report (DHDR) basically covers the formulation of a strategy which will accelerate the progress of Human Development.

The present report of Chhotaudepur district covers four aspects of Human Development—Demography & culture, Education, Health & nutrition, Livelihood & employment. A detailed sector wise analysis of all the aspects of human development have done to help the district level authorities in proper planning and allocation of the resources. SWOC (Strength, Weakness, Opportunities and Challenges) analysis has been carried out to acquire depth understanding of the recent information.

The Human development approach promotes for widening up of people's choice which directly effects the quality of living. By focusing on the Chhotaudepur district, an effort has been made to build the institutional capacity in the district for human development at the district as well as at the taluka level.

The report is based on considerable indicators which will be supportive in recognising the desires of Chhotaudepur district. It is hoped that this report (DHDR) would be a very useful to the policy makers and planners(planning activities) who are convoluted in raising the prestige for the district.

Foreword

Human Development is a development paradigm that is about much more than the rise or fall of national incomes. It is about creating an environment in which people can develop their full potential and lead productive, creative lives in accord with their needs and interests. People are the real wealth of nations. Development is thus about expanding the choices people have to lead lives that they value.

The Human Development approach arose in part as a result of growing criticism to the leading development approach, which presumed a close link between national economic growth and the expansion of individual human choices. As of 1990, the human development concept was applied to a systematic study of global themes, as published in the yearly Global Human Development Reports under the auspice of the UNDP.

The Human Development story of India is unique in its kind. India initiated Human Development issues during 8th Five Year Plan (1992-97). In order to integrate Human Development into state planning in India the preparation of reports at state level has been started. Now-a-days the Gujarat State is on the fast track of development. Planning Commission-Government of India and UNDP had partnered Strengthening State Plan for Human Development (SSPHD) programme, under which the Government of Gujarat had initiated the process of integrating Human Development in planning and policy documents.

The preparations of DHDR (District Human Development Report) marks the beginning of the process whereby people is mobilized and actively participate in the development process. In the year 2008-09, the state government has initiated the work of preparing District Human Development Report.

The DHDR is expected to be an important document for formulating the District Human Development Plan. The report has examined the status of Human Development in different talukas of Chhotaudepur district. The report depicts the present status of the district with available information for various indicators of Education, Health and Livelihood.

I hope that this report will form a milestone in the overall planning and development of the district. DHDR will also be very useful to concerned State and District level Officials, policy makers, decision maker and NGOs.
